Cybersecurity Consultant
Project Manager / PMO

formind

In order to provide our customers with the best possible support in carrying out and monitoring audit campaigns, we are looking for a Project Manager (PMO) to join our technical audit team as soon as possible.

Your responsibilities

Reporting to Formind's technical audit team, you will act as a bridge between our auditors and our customers' business teams.

You will be responsible for organizing the technical audit team's penetration tests.

Your missions will consist of :

- Organize scoping meetings, explain the audit approach, validate prerequisites and monitor their availability
- Review and validate audit reports and ensure compliance with the constraints imposed by our customers
- Close assignments and support business teams in understanding audit results
- Monitor progress of audit campaigns

Formind's auditors will be on hand to help you understand the technical elements.

Juniors are welcome on the job, and training through a binômage scheme will be put in place.

Your profile

- Would you like to join a team on a human scale and discover the consulting business in a specialized, cutting-edge company?
- You're passionate about cybersecurity
- Without being technical, are you interested in intrusion testing & redteam?
- You've already managed a project and have good organizational and teamwork skills.
- Preferably, you have already had contact with penetration testing assignments, or auditing assignments in general.
- You're at ease in the spoken word and know how to explain things in layman's terms.
- You want to learn and be challenged
- Your qualities are autonomy, rigor, intellectual curiosity, listening skills and team spirit.
